EMPLOYMENT

Web developer, Irkutsk State University

2014-10 — Present

Maintaining a high variety of educational web services. Developing design prototypes from Scratch into HTML/CSS. Supporting legacy code on a regular basis. Basic SQL: Postgresql, MySQL.

- Ported a handful of legacy Open CMS websites to the modern stack.
- Developed several purely front-end applications working with the remote CRM API (1C).
- Successfully pushed Ruby on Rails into our team stack for the sake of easing the process of developing small applications.

Freelance web-development and design, Self-employed

2013-01 — 2014-10

Landing pages, plain simple CMS-based websites for small companies, web design, prototyping. PHP.

WRITING

Small personal blog, dev.to/mkrl

I'm writing some of my thoughts down, mostly JS related.

INTERESTS

GitHub

I use GitHub on a daily basis. Starting from my todo list and monitoring OSS I'm interested in, to contributing, working and sharing projects of my own.

Digital art

I used to draw stuff in my spare time. This is how I originally came to the Web - as a designer.

Water drinking

I love drinks of a different kind. I enjoy good coffee on my lunch breaks but water is my №1 liquid source.
